Dedication

Mrs. George Vann

To our former English instructor, advisor, and friend, Mrs. Ruth Ames Vann, we fondly dedicate this 1950 issue of the ECHOES, hoping that she will cherish it in her heart just as she remained in ours.

Class History

Glance back with me, over our twelve years of school. Remember in September 1938, when a group of eager boys and girls entered Wendell School? We had a big struggle in learning our A,B,C's, and how to read and write, but with the help of all our faithful elementary teachers, we made progress.

Our big year was in the seventh grade, for this was our first year in the high school building. During this time Miss Lessie Richardson had much trouble trying to keep us away from Mr. Pittman's turnip patch, but in the eighth grade we became hopeful and hardworking under Miss Baker's and Mrs. Nespeco's guidance.

High school at last, and there are so many things to remember; all the things our class has done together, our friends who have come and gone, and our wonderful patient teachers. Two of our former teachers we shall always remember; our freshman and sophomore advisors, Mr. O'Neal and Mrs. Vann.

As Juniors, we considered ourselves fortunate in having Mrs. Elwood Perry as our home-room teacher. That year we gave the Junior Play, "Sara Sees It Through," and sponsored the Junior-Senior Banquet. It was our first banquet and we put our hearts into it.

Next came the last and most important year of our school career, our Senior year, and we had as our loyal and well-loved teacher, Mrs. E. T. Boyette.

One of the most important months of this year was October, for it was then that we received our rings and sponsored the Halloween Carnival.

Each month we took great pride in publishing the school paper. Our appreciation goes to Miss Waters and Miss Forrest, who helped us make the paper a success.

In December we visited the planetarium in Chapel Hill and saw the "Star of Bethlehem". Following that trip we went to Williamsburg, Virginia, where we increased our store of knowledge and had lots of fun. The trip that we shall never forget was the one to Washington, D.C. This was made during the first of May, and we saw many famous places on the four day tour.

On May 26, we shall receive our diplomas and then our school days will draw to an end. Our years have been busy and happy, and we feel as if they have been well-spent. Our teachers have prepared us so that we will face the future with hope and determination.

Frances Pearce

CLASS POEM

Twelve years have passed, Dear Seniors of '50
And now is the day or days-
When each of us shall open a gate,
And go our separate ways.

The hope of the world lies with us-
With us and all our kind.
Are we to fail-or shall we succeed?
Our fate in future will find.

Are we to trail in the dust,
The golden hopes of men,
Or shall we swing it to the sky
As a shrine as banners o'er sin.

And o'er the roads which we shall travel
And the obstacles which block our way-
May God be with us hand in hand
To lead us on to a better day.

Nell Mason

-by NELL MASON

COLORS: Blue and white

FLOWER: Pink rose

MOTTO: We know not what lies before us but we are willing to learn.

CLASS SONG

(Tune: THE BELLS OF ST. MARY'S)

I.
The bells of old Wendell at sweet eventide,
Shall call us to duty, in this busy life,
And out in the wide world we'll seek our goal,
And know you'll be waiting, yes waiting for us.

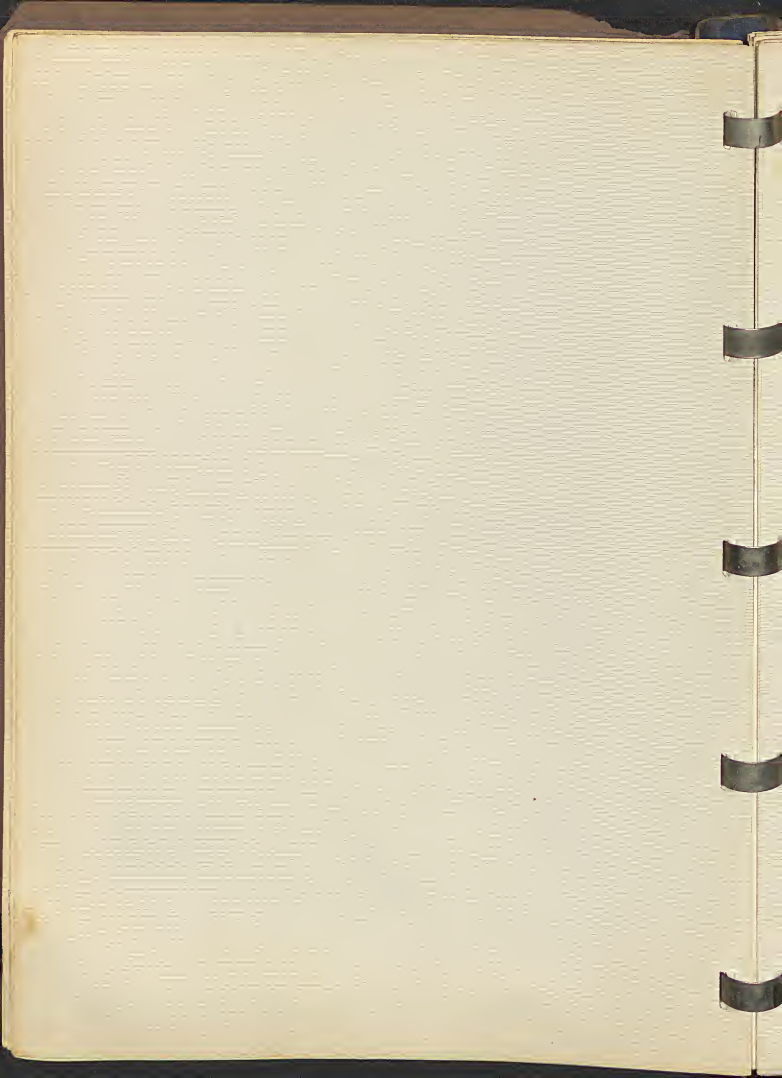

II.
Our school like a touch with its flames burning high,
Will light up our pathway thro darkness and strife,
But we'll always remember the lessons we've learned,
For they'll ever guide us and show us our way.

Chorus.
We're seniors of '50, We've come thro the years
With dear friends and teachers who've taught us our way,
And now we are leaving, the school of old Wendell,
We'll never forget you-always love you our old school.

CLASS WILL

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Wendell High School, in the town of Wendell, State of North Carolina, on this twenty-sixth day of May in the year one thousand nine hundred fifty, being of sound mind and generous disposition, and fully realizing that, as a class, we shall exist no more, do hereby make and publish this our last will and testament; all other wills other than this to be considered null and void.

Louis Todd leaves his ability to shoot from the corner of the basketball court to L.C. Haswell. Who can do it almost as well as Louis anyway--also giving to L.C. his little black book of Johnston Girls.

Martha Jane Coley leaves all of her excess height to little Josephine Gay and also her position as head cheerleader to Ruth Rhodes.

Charles Yeargin bequeathes his ability to get an excuse to go home at 2:15 to Ivan Gay.

Joan Hester leaves her job as office girl to Bertie Barham, also her dictionary to help Mr. Boyette with his spelling.

Yvonne Arnold leaves her sarcastic remarks to Rebecca Nowell who already has her share of them.

To Betty Bruch, Lona Rea Hocutt leaves her title of most attractive girl in class '51 and hopes her hat size doesn't increase.

To Bruce Herndon and Coye Lee Blinson, Lois Johnson leaves enough of her intelligence to get a diploma in '51.

Charles Doan leaves Novelle Lovelace his title of most athletic boy.

Skillful Pentress Richardson leaves her typing ability to poor, little, bewildered John Westley Tarpley.

Bootsy Renfro leaves her position of flirting with the referees every third game to Pat Godwin who'd made a good captain anyway.

Quiet, poised Janis Saunders leaves her quiet and dignified nature to Marjorie Flowers and Janice Strickland who talk too much.

To mischievous Mack Creech, Wilbur Strickland leaves the honor of being the Senior class president and to Ivan Gay his ability to keep out of trouble when he skips activity period.

Nell Mason leaves her everlasting habit of talking to Betty Hinnant.

Joe Batchlor leaves his 'Toni' treatments to Sue Pleasant and also his short hair styles to Grady Clark.

The girl who speaks her mind, Nan Mattox, leaves her trunk full of arguments to timid Bob Grimes so he can entertain Mrs. Boyette during History IV.

Alawayne Horton leaves love for J.O. Allen to J.O. Allen in case he doesn't have enough for himself and all the girls.

Alease Roach kindly bequests her position as star guard on the basketball team to Ann Kay Winstead.

To Zoda Phipps, Peggy Richardson leaves her loud and incessant talking--evidently she has an over abundance.

Charles Yeargin reluctantly leaves his place as idol of the local gals to Shelton Bridgers and Billy Rhodes--hoping they will keep up the good work keeping them swooning.

Duane Bruch humbly requests that Ann Hobgood will let her hair grow long so as to carry the tradition on (as he did) in Wendell High.

Frances Harris leaves her beautiful voice to Joanne Mitchell.

Temple Liles leaves her date book already filled to Marie Richardson and Doris Painter--divide them equally girls.

Frances Pearce leaves her stylish appearance to Katherine Sherron.

To Ervin Privette, Jimmy Perkins happily leaves No. 61 school bus and also his ability to get along with women.

Penny Wall leaves her art of flirting with those eyes to Lottie Pearoa

Carrie Love Denton leaves Wendell High School for greener pastures.

CLASS PROPHECY

Yes, time does fly! Things do change! Why do you remember the year 1950 back at old Wendell High. Those were the good old days-- Just the other day I saw an old class mate and gleamed a bit of knowledge concerning those fine old friends. We find that----

Yvonne finally finished college and is back at Wakelon teaching English. She also teaches "Driving Safety"--from experience?

Our shorty, Martha Jane has a job as interior decorator. She has no trouble making sales as she has always been a good talker.

The Health Department in Raleigh boasts a most dependable blonde secretary. Our own Carrie! It's rumored that she goes to and from Raleigh by Mercury.

Nell is working hard at her job with the Lizard Lick Times. She has a daily feature, Delores Kix, Advice To The Love-Lorn.

Duane is the star performer in Jack Flopman's Hook Drivers. At least he's getting paid for his style of driving.

Mrs. Lois, the bride of '50, is living in a house-boat in Norfolk with her two children, Belle and Bottom.

Teaching Lois' children are Bootsy and Joan. Joan teaches Math; Bootsy, English. Bootsy used to play ball for the Mars Hill Gang.

Lona Rea, the most attractive girl of the class of '50 is happily married to Charles Barnes. She is the most attractive farmorette at Archer's Lodge.

Alwayne holds a position in Raleigh as a receptionist in a doctor's office. She spends her spare time chasing motorcycles.

Good ole Temple is keeping the home fires burning. She is the owner of Liles' Coal Yard at Edgemont.

Nan is teaching math and physical ed. Her basketball team is tops and they're expected to be champions. Nan's boy friend teaches home ec. at the same school.

Frances Fearce is the feature editor at the News and Disturber in Raleigh. The Hi-Life was a fine start--the paper, that is.

Alease teaches math at Wake Forest. A better one is not to be found. During college days, she played on the Deamon Deacon basketball team.

Penny is the best nurse Rex Hospital ever trained. She is noted for her new invention, the Hydrogen Hypo.

Joe, the toni twin, has obtained a position as sole owner and operator of the grocery store in Wendell, formerly known as Britt's.

Jimmy is glad now that he drove '61 back in school, 'cause this experience has really helped him with Grehound Bus Line. He is known as 'Pick-em-up' Perk.

Louis (Bob Hope) Todd, the clown of the class, has a radio program all of his own. He is a famous comedian and magician. Nobody ever found out where those nickles went back in '50.

Acting as Louis' assistant and guinea pig is Charles (Oscar) Yeargin. He's happy a sight--'cause he sits during the program.

Our class president, Wilbur, owns a jewelry store in Wilson. He really knows what makes jewelry tick.

A better home ec. teacher is not to be found than Frances Harris. She specializes in husband-tested recipes.

Fentress' career is that of a stenographer. I hear she's done quite well in that line, since Willard is her boss.

Just look on Highway #64 for the patrolman of the year. Our Charles Doan! He goes beyond his territory into Johnston County quite often.

Peggy is working hard as a private secretary for a famous doctor. Janie, your prophet, finally got Vernon to the altar. She's now assistant to the Assistant County Agent, Yaddinville, N.C.

Yes, that's how things are now. Times and folks do change.
